OSHA On-Site Consultation Program

AVAILABLE FREE THROUGH PARTNERSHIP WITH OSHA

SAFETY AND HEALTH ADVICE YOU CAN TRUST.

Through OSHA's On-site Consultation Program, you can get free, confidential advice before workplace hazards become a problem or cause a violation. A highly-trained safety and occupational health professional will come to your workplace to assist with the scope you determine, which may include focusing on a single concern at a jobsite, a comprehensive hazard assessment, advice on compliance with OSHA standards, training for your workers, and/or assisting in establishing or improving your safety and health programs.

Participating employers must agree to correct any serious and imminent dangers hazards identified during the visit in a timely manner. Participating employers are granted a deferral from OSHA programmed enforcement inspections while working with an On-Site Consultation Program.
